

EDUCATION

Question Time

Is today's education fit for tomorrow's world?

Cheltenham is a national centre of excellence for education, so where better to discuss the pressing questions facing our education system:

Is our curriculum preparing young people for the 21st century workplace? How can school leavers choose between university, vocational training and apprenticeships? Which qualifications give pupils the best chances in the future: A levels, International Baccalaureate, BTECs? How well are schools tackling the rising tide of mental health issues for young people?

Politicians, leaders in education, journalists and employers tackle the tough questions on

Thursday 10 October 2019
Bacon Theatre, Dean Close School
7-9pm

Hosted by Jeremy Vine

Panellists are The Rt Hon Lord Blunkett,
Alex Chalk MP, Professor Richard Benham,
Eleanor Busby (The Independent) and
Emma Taylor (Warden of the Dean Close Foundation).

Tickets: 18 & under free.

Adults £5 (+£2 booking fee)

Available at bacontheatre.co.uk or call the box office on 01242 258002

Follow the build-up on social media #EduQT