Dean Close School, Cheltenham
Founded 1886

Co-educational | Full Boarding | Age 7-18

Welcome from the Headmaster

Dean Close School is located in a beautiful, enclosed parkland campus a short walk from the centre of Cheltenham, a town on the edge of the idyllic Cotswolds. We are well known for many things but at the heart of the School lies our Christian ethos. The ethos is not measured by formal activities or events, but by our overwhelming commitment to each individual. If we are to make this happen, we have to be large enough to afford us the opportunity to deliver a wide range of activities at a very high level whilst remaining small enough to ensure that we know each pupil in their own right.

With just fewer than 500 pupils, the School is small enough to allow everyone to know and be known; it allows everyone to get fully involved in the life of the School. One thing that you will see about Dean Close pupils (Decanians) is that they tend to be busy, managing their academic commitments alongside a wide range of co-curricular activities and social events. The pupils are looked after by a combination of a very strong House system and excellent coaching by their tutors.

Dean Close is made up of a combination of a very strong Boarding and Flexi-Boarding community combined with a significant number of Day pupils. The needs of these different groups are met via a six day a week boarding school with a day of rest and activities on the seventh. With a strong culture of learning and curiosity confirmed by impressive academic results and high standards of behaviour, we are rightly proud of the achievements of our pupils in the classroom.

Outside of the classroom you will see a vibrant and exciting creative arts programme, a remarkable sporting reputation, an outward looking Community Action programme and an eclectic mix of trips and activities to challenge our wide variety of pupils.

Kindness, curiosity, respect, resilience, service and integrity flow out of Dean Close and are embedded in all we do from studying the latest scientific developments to creating beautiful art; from debating political matters of the day to playing sport at the highest level. Decanians leave school equipped for a changing world and ready to lead and serve wherever they are called.

Creative

Art is a vital and thriving subject at Dean Close where dedicated students often excel beyond their own expectations. Pupils are encouraged to be ambitious and independent in their creative responses and opportunities are available to work with a wide range of media and techniques, including ceramics, painting, printmaking, photography and IT, with a Fine Art emphasis.

Passionate

Music is vibrant at Dean Close and this is reflected in the large number of vocal, chamber and orchestral groups. These include Orchestra, Sinfonia, Choral Society, Chapel Choir, Concert Band, Jazz Band and Chamber Choir, as well as many chamber ensembles and rock bands. Since January 2011 the School has been fortunate to have the world-renowned Carducci Quartet as Quartet-in-Residence, teaching individual lessons and coaching chamber groups on a weekly basis.

Home away from Home

Dean Close is very much a boarding school, with a full programme of teaching and activities all through the week and at weekends. The School has a healthy mixture of Day and Boarding pupils plus a small number of Flexi Boarders who stay one or two nights per week. With families from as far afield as Australia or as close as across the road, the School does the utmost to accommodate the different needs and circumstances of each individual family.

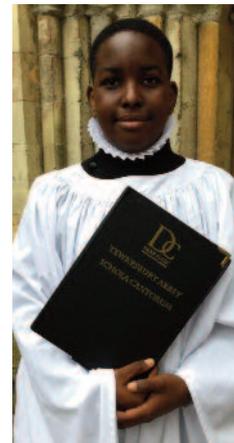

Chaplaincy at Dean Close

Dean Close School was established on an Evangelical Christian foundation within the Church of England, and this is still very much lived out in who we are and what we do as a School.

This is seen most obviously in the way that at Dean Close we value every person, regarding them as uniquely created and loved by God; we seek to provide an environment and opportunities where everyone can explore what this means, primarily discovering the gifts that God has given them within a safe and happy environment. Whatever a pupil's creed or background, we find that the Chaplaincy can provide both a home from home setting where pupils sometimes many miles from family, can enjoy real community, and a safe nurturing space.

We are also passionate about pupils feeling able to ask the big and sometimes personal questions which the Christian faith both explores and encourages. Whatever their age, prior knowledge, or personal persuasion, Decanians have many opportunities to discover their faith. There are a variety of settings for this, spanning the formal and the informal and including pupil-led activities.

Dean Close Values

The School is defined by its values. They are both enduring and pervasive; all our activities and decisions are made with reference to them, and all of our community should know and understand them.

Dean Close is willing to say in public what it believes. Making a difference both as individuals and as an institution is central to the Dean Close ethos.

Respect - give and receive due regard

Kindness - care without conditions

Service - proactively meet a need

Resilience - develop grit

Curiosity - desire to know

Integrity - be consistently truthful in words and deeds
