MANIFESTO FOR CHANGE STUDENT PANEL #1

“A very engaging and thought-provoking session. I really enjoyed hearing the views of students from other schools.”

“I’m looking forward to sharing what we’ve talked about with others and hearing what they think”

November saw the exciting start to a series of events in which students from across the Cheltenham Education Partnership come together to share and debate their views on education.

Amy Lilley-Stuart and Neil Gilbride from the University of Gloucestershire (School of Education), provided students with an inspiring introduction that injected enthusiasm and allowed students to begin their journey into how they see the shape of future education.

Over the course of the coming months students will continue to share their thoughts and experiences with others, and come together to develop their written Manifesto for Change.

If you were unable to join us for the first session and would like to join future sessions, it's not too late to have your say. The next student panel event will take place in January 2021, via Zoom.
